

Your Total Resource Management Solution

At EBSCO, our goal is the same as yours: to make the management of print and electronic resources less complicated and less time-consuming, so that the content you've purchased is readily accessible to your end users. That's where EBSCONET® comes in.

From all the services you would expect, including the placement of orders, claims and renewals, to the services you deserve, such as on-demand reports, assistance with e-journal activation and registration, and integration with your automated library system, EBSCONET delivers much more than basic subscription management.

And when it comes to making informed and timely renewal decisions, EBSCO's got you covered.

Highlights:

- easily identify titles that have merged or changed names
- easily select an alternate format for a title when renewing
- process renewals online by subscriber, fund code or individual line item
- track who authorized renewals and when
- export reports showing the status of each renewal
- designate separate responsibility for authorizing renewals and for releasing renewal orders to EBSCO.

Benefits:

- increase efficiency of renewals handling through time-saving EBSCONET renewal options, including the ability to process renewals across multiple accounts via a single EBSCONET login
- access a rich database of bibliographic information empowering you to make smart renewal choices.

How can EBSCONET help you handle your renewals?

Before you even begin the renewal process, use EBSCONET to conduct a little analysis on your collection, which can help you decide what you want to renew.

Questions you may wish to consider:

- How is your collection meeting your end users' needs?
Assess your collection based on various selection criteria; use our survey tool to collect input from faculty and subject bibliographers.

- How has pricing for your collection changed, and is the current pricing within your budget? EBSCONET provides more than 25 serials management reports, several of which focus exclusively on financial analysis. The Historical Price Analysis provides you with changes in prices over a specified period of time and percentage-of-change comparisons. When paired with other financial analysis tools offered by EBSCO, this report can assist you in making sound decisions to support your research needs and the realities of your budget.
- Are you up-to-date on your options for electronic access? Our E-Journal Updates keep you informed when changes affect your e-collection, preparing you for the renewal cycle.

ORGANIZE the list

- With one click, you can re-arrange the order in which your renewal list appears on EBSCONET. Choose from Title Name, Subscriber Code, Subscriber Name, Start Date, Account Number, Total, Currency or Fund Code/ HEGIS number.

AUTHORIZE the list

- Regardless of whether you want to renew only a portion of your orders or the entire list, EBSCONET affords you maximum flexibility. You can work through the renewal list individually or in batches. You can save your work to be authorized by yourself or a colleague at a later date, or you can release the renewals for immediate processing.
